Maynard's Plurality 10,000 over Cheatham.

Freeman Probably Elected Governor.

Republicans and Unionists May Carry the Legislature.

SIX AND PROBABLY SEVEN REPUB-LICAN CONGRESSMEN.

Smith County Votes for Thornburgh over Caldwell.

The news from Tennessee grows more exciting as the doubts as to the Governor increase. The "tidal wave" seems likely to swamp the "millitary ring" who have deluded themselves with the idea that they were secure in their power.

The following private dispatches from the Democratice headquarters in Nashville show there is great trepidation in Gubernatorial circles:

NASHVILLE, Nov. 7, 4:45 P. M. There is doubt about the Governor.

SECOND DISPATCH.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 7, 4:45 p. m. What vote will Brown get in East Tennessee? We consider his election uncertain. Answer at once.

The following dispatch from Republican headquarters two hours later shows Freemans chances are good.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 7, 6:30 p. m. The vote of Smith county is as follows: Johnson, 558; Cheatham, 895; Maynard, 601; Caldwell, 558; Thornburgh, 627; Garrett, 785; Brown, 1,378; Freeman, 610. The returns from no other counties are in. Freeman is believed here to be elected Governor. Maynard's election is conceded by 10,000 plurality. W. F. PROSSER.

THE CONGRESSMEN.

The Congressional delegation in the 43d Congress from Tennessee will stand seven out of ten, Republican. We claim the election of the following:

Maynard, State at Large; Butler, 1st District; Thornburgh, 2d District; Crutchfield, 3d District; Harrison, 5th District; Nunn, 8th District, and Lewis, 9th District.

Our estimate of Crutchfield's and Key's majorities are as follows.

Crutchfield's, mostly official: Blount, 625; Loudon, 400; McMinn, 408; Roane, 713; James, 200; Bradley, 249; Hamilton, 300; Marion, 200. Total, 3,095.

Key's majorities, estimated: Monroe, 400; Rhea, 200; Meigs, 100; Polk, 200; Sequatchie, 100; Grundy, 275; Van Buren, 100; Warren, 750. Total, 2,125.

Crutchfield's majority is 970. Special to the Chronicle.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 7, 1872. Calculations are more or less speculative, owing to the meagre returns. Indications are favorable to the election of Maynard is close and doubtful, with chances very slightly in Brown's favor.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

He Returns to the City and Rests From His Rounds, Knowing He has Done Great Good.

Mr. Johnson is in the city, and spent the day yesterday in No. 5 Maxwell House, resting on the truly trying labors he has dents of the late warm and wearysome of the barrels.

He told a Banner reporter that he felt might, as he had as the standard-bearer of suspend the free and independent people of Tennessee, disrupted the smothering crust which was formed over the best hopes of the y 5,000.

The race between Freeman and Brown tion, but did the bidding of those who were sick nigh unto death of such flimsy shams as had been called conventions in this State, of late. Mr. Johnson said that, It is believed that Atkins and Bright | while his undertaking had been an imare the only Democratic Congressmen elected.

The Legislature is probably evenly divided, with, perhaps, a small majority in while his undertaking had been an immense one, and had taxed his physical self were severely, he had really enjoyed the canvass, and many times and many places it had been like a regular "love feast."

That gratitude was something sweet to one is spreading rapidly and is seriously affectwho engenders it. That he had been treated so often to the sight of the grateful face of some one who had chanced to receive some favor at his hands, that he could but remember the canvass most pleasantly.

He did not say this boastfully, nor as though it were a mere morsel of self-gratand said to him, "Mr. Johnson, I want to shake your hand," his heart could but en-

He felt fully satisfied that his work had done great good, and that the dawn of a better day was illuminating for the State. Mr. Johnson was fresh and decidedly in-clined to talk. He observed that he didn't think anything really definite could be ascertained concerning the State at Large Congressional race in less than two or three days, and spoke as though he had no fears for the result,—Nashville Banner, 7th.

The Kentucky Ku-Klux Exploit.

The following dispatch was read to-day by Judge Edmunds, Secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee:

"LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 4, 1872.—The ku-klux took from their home in East Hickman precinct, in Fayette county, near Lexington, night before last, a Republican negro named Samuel Hawkins, his wife, and daughter, and carried them to the Kentucky river, where it is supposed they were drowned. LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Standard up-holds the principle on what the Southern States seceded from the Union as opposed to Republicanism, which it denounces as deification of the passions of a temporary ma-jority, and as identified with personal and political corruption. The Republicans are re-sponsible also, for the insurrection in Cuba, the anarchy in Mexico and the murder of the Emperor Maxmillian. The Democrats however, are no better,

THE HORSE DISEASE.

Its Destructiveness and Remedies-What

Causes it and How to Detect its Presence. Mr. Castello, who has an absolute fondness for horses, requests us to publish the appended diagnosis of the horse disease, and account of remedial agents employed. The Country Gentleman, published in Western New York, says that the disease is catarrhal affectation of the mucous surface, beginning at the nostrils and throat. When neglected or aggravated by exposure or fatigue, the lungs become involved and death speedily ensues. So far, the at-tacks have proved comparatively mild, and the mortality has been light. This is due in a great degree to the prompt attention and care which have been exercised by the owner in adopting preventive as well as remedial measures.

THE REMEDIES. The general system of treatment which has proved successful has been such as would be indicated in cases of severe cold or influenza. The stables should be thoroughly ventilated, and disinfectants, such as chloride of lime, carbolic acid, or bromochloralum, freeley used. The horses are to be kept well blanketed, their bowels gently open by the use of bran mashes, and, if necessary, aperients. The nostrils should be sponged out several times a day with a weak solution of carbolic acid, or bromochloralum, to remove the mucous. Bromochloralum is also used as a wash for the throat. The following prescription is used quite commonly: Nitrate potash, 11 oz.; tartarized antimony, 11 oz.; digitalis, 1 oz. Pulvarize all together and make twelve powders : give one morning and night. If the case is not very bad, omit the digitalis. In cases where the soreness has reached the throat, the following is used: Linseed oil, 12 oz.; turpentine, 12 oz.; liquor ammonia fort, 1 oz. Mix all tegether in a four-ounce bottle and apply to the The same vetrinary surgeon who recommends the above prescriptions (Dr. Elliott, of St. Catherine's) remarks: "So long as the disease is confined to the larynx, there is very little danger, but should it descend to the lungs—which will be indicated by the continued standing up of the animal, cold extremities and labored breathing—a half pound of mustard should breathing—a half pound of mustard should and water to the consistency of thick cream, and the mixture rubbed well in behind the fore legs or over the region of the lungs. The legs should be bandaged, if cold. If the pulse should be over fifty-five per minute, fifteen drops of Fleming's tincture of aconite should be given every two hours; and if the breathing still continues labored and the pulse grow more rapid, apply the mustard again, and give one and a half drachms of calomel for two mornings," The homeopathic treatment which has been employed with the greatest success by those who prefer that system, is aconite and stibium in the first state of the disease, State and is drawing immigration and capital to East

THE CHARACTER OF THE DISEASE. The disease is highly epidemic in its character, and the rapidity with which it has spread gives reason for the gravest ap-prehension that it may become general in its visitation. A horse once affected recovers in from ten to twenty days, according to the care and skill exercised in the treatment. So far no cases of relapse have been heard of after a thorough cure has once been effected.
